North Nowra Public School bring colour to their fundraising

The children of North Nowra Public School gathered excitedly on Sunday 26th June for the inaugural fundraising Colour Run.

Bronwen Lewis, P&C President, described the day as a 'huge success'. "The day was made a success by the enthusiasm of the students, families, and teachers involved," she said.

"Students and their parents jogged laps around the back playground and through our bush bike track. Being bombarded with flurries of coloured powder at the end of each lap had them coming back for more!".

Approximately half the school enrolment came out to enjoy a beautiful winters day and support the school. Families stayed afterward to enjoy a picnic together and relax in the sun. The P&C run sausage sizzle and hot drinks were popular additions.

School principal Julie Ashby was thrilled with the turnout. "The strength of our school community and commitment to having fun was evident on the day," she said. "It was wonderful to see students enjoying our lovely school grounds and having a fantastic time".

Organised by the P&C, an impressive $2000 was raised. The funds will contribute to the purchase of a new intercom system for the school along with other classroom resources.
