English Language Courses

Learning English at Adelaide International School involves more than learning English words. The development of proficient speaking, listening, reading and writing skills is central to the course. Most importantly it is about making sure students are confident to communicate in English at an academic and social level.

Officially known as English Language Intensive Courses for Overseas Students (ELICOS) and registered under the Australian government Department of Education and Training, Adelaide International School offers English language courses aimed to meet the specific purpose of the learner.

General English Course

This is offered to adult learners who wish to improve their English language for everyday use. This will assist them to communicate confidently in an English speaking country.

English for Academic Purpose – Primary / Middle

Students aged 5 – 12 years of age are involved in a range of carefully selected learning activities through a program designed to provide scaffolding to learn the English language in an age-appropriate manner. This enables them to build confidence in communication. Learning encompasses the development of oral language, writing, reading and basic mathematics vocabulary.

English for Academic Purpose – Secondary / Tertiary

This course is offered to students preparing for enrolment into a secondary school or tertiary institution. This course develops critical thinking, problem-solving and study skills where students research and apply their learning to real life experiences. The course focuses on the development of proficient speaking, listening, reading comprehension and writing abilities that are suitable for entry into the desired educational pathway.

Learning Methodologies

All courses utilise a variety of learning methodologies, including excursion activities, allowing students to immerse themselves into the wider community and practice their English language.

Assessment

At the commencement of study a student's current level of English language is assessed and a course duration determined. Students are continually monitored and will graduate when they have achieved the required English language proficiency. A comprehensive report is prepared which includes a portfolio of work completed as evidence of their learning.

Teachers

Teachers have specialist qualifications in TESOL with those facilitating Primary, Middle and Secondary school students being registered teachers who understand the academic language required for successful completion of school curriculum.

Enrolment

Adelaide International School offers continual enrolment throughout the year.

EAP - Primary

Adelaide International School provides a Primary School Ready Program that focuses on intensive English language development for primary school students aged 5-12 years old who have newly arrived in Australia. This program aims to develop the English language skills of students to prepare them for enrolment into a mainstream class at an Australian primary school.

The program focuses on four key areas of English language development:

1. oral language
2. writing
3. reading
4. basic mathematics vocabulary.

Students are involved in a range of carefully selected activities and learning programs designed to provide scaffolding to learn the English language in an age-appropriate manner that will build confidence and promote a love of learning.

Class sizes are small in order to provide a learning environment with a high level of teacher support where content can be personalised to meet the individual needs of each student. The program uses formative and summative assessment strategies to differentiate content according to each students' age, level of English language and personalised needs. The outcomes of these assessments are further used to help identify the recommended duration of time each student requires in the program.

For students referred by a local Australian Primary School, Adelaide International School works closely with that school to implement an immersion pathway for the student where they are gradually immersed, allowing students to build confidence in their social interactions with peers and practice their English language skills in a traditional Australian classroom before commencement of their fulltime enrolment.

Upon completion of the Primary School Ready Program an assessment report summary will be provided giving an overview of the student's current levels of English language and engagement. For students not referred by a local Australian Primary School this report can be used to support future enrolment applications.

Adelaide Independent Schools Alliance

Adelaide International School is a member of the Alliance.

Adelaide Independent Schools Alliance is a collaboration of premier non-government schools in South Australia.

Members of the Alliance recognise the need for a holistic approach to student recruitment where support for the student's welfare extends beyond enrolment.

Arriving in an English-speaking country with limited language skills, and a lack of awareness of local cultures can be daunting, particularly for young students.

The Alliance recognises the challenges for international students to be successful in their transition into Adelaide schools.

At the core of the Alliance model is a cost-effective program through which students become informed and prepared.

This starts with a purpose designed assessment of their English language skills that allows the development of an individual learning plan to help them meet the entry requirements of premium schools.
